

Colour my FRIDAY

Brighten up your spring term with a colourful, non-uniform Friday and raise vital funds for Marshall Janson and Meningitis UK.

Marshall had just celebrated his first birthday, in his hometown of Redruth, when he was struck down with meningitis on Boxing Day 2008. While Marshall escaped brain damage he had to have both his hands and both his legs amputated. The Handstand Appeal has been raising money ever since to fund a lifetime of rehabilitation and new prosthetic hands and legs.

At Meningitis UK we know only too well the devastation that meningitis can cause and we feel that the only way to truly prevent cases like Marshall's is by finding a vaccine that will eradicate meningitis completely.

We are asking schools all over Cornwall to dress up in their most colourful and dazzling clothes and make a donation to Handstand – The Appeal for Marshall Janson and Meningitis UK.

All donations will be equally divided between the Handstand Appeal and Meningitis UK
